Gold & Black, Single Family House | fabi architekten Regensburg | Germany | 2011

The rural building-site is entranced from the south. For getting sunlight to the garden and the pool there are only story buildings located in the south. These lowly volumes create a sheltered entrance courtyard. On the northeast a two levelled building is right-angled arranged to them. The open main rooms living-cooking-dining on the ground floor, are completely frameless glassed to the garden and connected inside and outside by big sliding doors to a merging space. Direct sunlight comes throughout sky-light-bands. The surface of the building is completely deep black in RAL 9005. A meandering metallic gold line are in contrast to that. The golden color explodes on the deep black background. The heat pump in combination with the possible photovoltaic installations for electric power generation makes the building energy self-sufficient.
